LAST WEEK'S MEETING

President Bobbi presided and delivered the invocation; Ken King led the Pledge of Allegiance; and Sara McCallum the 4 Way Test. Ron Anderson led a rousing version of "God Bless America."

Peter Zahner presided over a Red to Blue Badge Ceremony, honoring and celebrating Morgan Eldridge and Drew Montez-Clark completing those tasks necessary to earn the Rotary Blue Badge. Congratulations and welcome Morgan and Drew.

Jon McLeod rolled out a new and innovative fundraiser in support of Gift of Life. Carl Nickel recently escorted "several" twelve packs of New Glarus beer back from his trip to Wisconsin, the exclusive brew becoming the subject of a special Gift of Life auction. "Spirited" bidding resulted in the sale of half our New Glarus stock. Thanks Jon and Carl for presenting a frothy and fun fundraising idea.

Rotary Has Heart...this week's donation suggestion is flour/maseca and toothbrushes. Thanks to all for your continued "heart" in making this project a successful reality.

Attention Rotary Regulars...if your name is not on the sign-in sheet at the front desk, please see Roger Brunswick to complete your registration.

Our Speaker...last week we were pleased to meet Brian Hamman, recently appointed Lee County Commissioner. A graduate of Cape Coral High School, Brian earned an associate's degree from Edison State College and a bachelor's degree from Florida

Gulf Coast University. He also spent ten years in the TV news business. Brian shared his perspective on a number of local and regional issues and emphasized his commitment to economic development and fiscal responsibility. Thanks Brian for a thoughtful presentation. Visit us again soon.

And finally...our meetings are often wonderful journeys into the unexpected. Last week was no exception as our friend Peter Ferner of the Starnberg Bavaria Rotary Club offered us insight into the German hunting tradition as he expertly serenaded us with a New Year "signal salutation." Thanks Peter.

From RI: Rotarian Vision Offers Hope in Afghanistan

RI recently reported that “the Zabuli Education Center (ZEC) in the villages of Deh'Subz, Afghanistan, is now in its sixth year of operations. The student body has grown to over four hundred students; girls ranging in age from 6 to 20 attend the school free of charge. Every student at ZEC studies Dari (the local language,) English, and Math. As their studies progress, the curriculum expands to include a third language Pashto, History, Science, Health and Hygiene, Geography, Religion, and Reading the Quran. Girls from the rural villages of Deh'Subz had no access to education before the ZEC came to be.

Rotarian and CNN Hero Razia Jan founded the school and now resides in Afghanistan to oversee operations. She selects teachers and administers her own test to ensure their competency to teach the unusually rigorous curriculum. She works to educate the local populace on the benefits of women's education. She visits with students' families to dissuade them from entering girls into early marriages.

When Razia returned to her native Afghanistan after the fall of the Taliban in 2002, she could hardly believe the plight of Afghan women, especially in rural areas. Under Taliban rule, women were unable to pursue education at all. Razia brought together the funding and resources to create a new educational institution where an old one once stood. The land the Zabuli Education Center is built upon was once the site of an academy for boys built by an Afghan king.

Today, girls walking to school is becoming the norm in this part of Afghanistan, thanks to one Rotarian's vision. In order to ensure that students do not face any financial barriers to their education, every cost related to their attendance is provided for: tuition, books, uniforms that include shoes and a warm coat, pencils and paper. Funding is provided through Razia's Ray of Hope Foundation, a registered non-profit organization based in Wellesley, MA.”

Our Upcoming Speakers

This Morning,
Roger Desjarlais,
Lee County Manager

The 4-Way Test
Of the things we think, say or do.

Is it the TRUTH?

Is its FAIR to all concerned?

Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?

Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

This Morning's Invocation

Good and gracious God, in the ebb and flow of circumstances, in our professional and personal lives, help us to maintain stability of purpose, strength of character, moral responsibility, the courage of bold convictions, and always a sense of compassion and concern for others.

Accept now our gratitude as we partake of that which has been provided to sustain our bodies in order that our minds and wills may be dedicated to worthy and productive endeavors in our community and the world.

We lift our prayer to you with humility and appreciation.

Amen.
